MEMORANDUM FOR: Executive Secretary WJC
FROM: Director of Central Intelligence
SUBJECT: The Cunningham Report

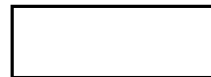

There was something called the Cunningham Report done on the CIA in 1966. It dealt with intelligence objectives and practices coming up with the conclusion that CIA was collecting too much intelligence. This was reviewed in 1967 by a senior executive group chaired by Admiral Rupert Taylor. Will you see if you can get these two documents. Refers
